

CALL FOR PAPERS

ST. JOHN'S
UNIVERSITY

THE PETER J. TOBIN
COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

2019 FMA Applied Finance Conference

17 May 2019 | New York, NY

The Ninth Annual FMA Applied Finance Conference will be hosted at St. John's University's Manhattan campus located in the heart of New York City's most vibrant neighborhoods. The Conference is much smaller and more focused than the FMA's traditional meetings and includes a relatively small number of papers to provide ample opportunity for presentations and discussion by participants.

FMA seeks high-quality papers from scholars and practitioners in the fields of finance and accounting that:

- Inform practice and advance the frontiers of academic research in directions relevant to practice.
- Address issues that are relevant to contemporary issues globally and for policy formation and assessment.
- Introduce new hypotheses that have the potential to stimulate additional research.

About St. John's University

Founded in 1870, St. John's University is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for ethical leadership roles in today's global society.

St. John's has four campuses—Queens, Staten Island, and Manhattan in New York, and Rome, Italy. The University also has three academic locations—Hauppauge, New York; Paris, France; and Limerick, Ireland. Students come to St. John's from 46 states and 127 countries. The University offers more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs in the arts, business, education, law, pharmacy, and the natural and applied sciences. Students benefit from academic service-learning activities, extensive global studies opportunities, an alumni network of over 180,000, and 17 NCAA, Division I men's and women's athletic teams.
