

CALL FOR PAPERS

2021 FMA Annual Meeting

20 - 23 October 2021 | Denver, CO

FMA International is pleased to announce its 2021 Annual Meeting will be held on 20 - 23 October at the Sheraton Downtown Denver Hotel in Denver, CO.

Led by Dr. Michelle Lowry, TD Bank Professor of Finance at Drexel University, the conference will bring together academicians and practitioners with interests in financial decision-making. The conference provides a forum for presenting new research and discussing current issues in financial management and related topics.

At this point, we are planning to hold an in-person conference with some virtual components. Recent surveys highlight the many benefits of face-to-face interactions, and we hope that most people will be able to attend in-person. However, we will continue monitoring and re-evaluate as the event draws closer.

Presentations of research papers, panel discussions, Overview & Research Idea sessions and roundtables will begin Thursday morning and end Saturday at noon. The Doctoral Student Consortium (by application), Diversity Emerging Scholars Initiative (by application) and Financial Planning & Analysis Roundtable will be held on Wednesday, 20 October.

Paper Submissions

The deadline for paper submissions is Friday 9 April 2021. The later deadline, compared to other years, enables people to submit more recent research and facilitates the sharing of this more recent research at the conference.

FMA Doctoral Student Consortium on Wednesday, 20 October Application period open.

Coordinated by Dr. Christine Parlour, Professor, Ivan C. Coleman Chair in Finance and Accounting and Distinguished Teaching Fellow at the University of California, Berkeley, the Doctoral Student Consortium includes a panel session of distinguished scholars discussing the latest advances in research and offering career advice. The afternoon breakout sessions give participants the opportunity to present job market papers or dissertation proposals and receive feedback from the faculty and panelists. Accepted participants receive complimentary conference registration.

The application deadline is Thursday, 15 July 2021.

FMA Diversity Emerging Scholars Initiative on Wednesday, 20 October Application period open.

FMA is pleased to offer the Diversity Emerging Scholars Initiative (DESI), a program that offers early career scholars (e.g., Assistant Professors or untenured professors) from underrepresented minority backgrounds opportunities to gain visibility in the profession, benefit from mentorship, receive feedback and ongoing support on their research from senior faculty, and receive advice on professional development.

Selected participants will be invited to participate in workshops at the 2021 FMA Annual Meeting in Denver, Colorado on Wednesday, 20 October 2021 where they will present their papers/research ideas, engage in discussion, and receive feedback from senior researchers. Participants agree to integrate feedback gained from these workshops into their papers within 9 months and send back to the senior faculty leaders for additional mentorship and support. Conference registration fees will be waived for selected participants.

The application deadline is Thursday, 15 July 2021.

FMA Innovation in Teaching Award

Application period opens in March 2021.

The Financial Management Association International's (FMA) Innovation in Teaching Award is designed to recognize inspiring educators, enhance the quality and relevance of education in finance, disseminate successful innovative practices, and elevate Teaching as a craft to the next level.

Three finalists will be invited to present in a special session at the FMA Annual Meeting in October 2021 and prizes will be offered to the winner and two runners up.

Applications will open on the FMA website in March 2021 and the deadline for submissions is Thursday, 15 July 2021.
